

Mauricio Jaramillo Galvis has served as Vice-President of Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) since January 2020. Mr. Jaramillo has 26 years of experience in the oil and gas private sector in Colombia and Latin America. He has been appointed to several leadership roles as Vice-President of HSE of BP Colombia, Vice-President of HSE and Engineering at the Andean Unit of BP, Vice-President of Corporate Affairs and HSE, and Vice-President of Human Resources and Sustainability at Equion, among others. Mr. Jaramillo holds an MD from Universidad Javeriana, a specialization in Occupational Health and Safety from Universidad El Bosque and a degree from the Operations Academy at MIT.