MATERIAL INFORMATION

Ecopetrol Reports on the Environmental Agency ANLA's Decision on Lisama 158

Ecopetrol S.A. (BVC: ECOJETROL, NYSE: EC) ("Ecopetrol" or the "Company") announces that it has been notified that Colombia's National Environmental Licensing Authority (ANLA) has imposed a COL$5,155 million fine on the Company following its investigation of the March 2018 oil seepage that occurred in the vicinity of the Lisama 158 well.

The ANLA imposed a fine as it determined that the operational actions carried out by the Company were not adequate. Ecopetrol disputes this finding and will assess and present all technical arguments to the ANLA to demonstrate that, from the moment the Company learned of the oil seepage, it applied the appropriate contingency measures and utilized all technical, economic and human resources necessary to address the emergency.

In its decision, the ANLA absolved the Company from various charges, considering that the Company had "fully activated and executed efforts to implement the contingency plan." Likewise, the ANLA noted that the environmental management measures in this plan were diligently applied.
